

2. A six-sided die has been altered so that two dots appear on two sides, three dots appear on three sides, and four dots appear on one side. Let the random variable  $x$  represent the number of dots that appear. Construct the probability distribution for  $x$  and find the mean and the standard deviation.